Congress

Following the success of the foundation congress in Riccione (RN, Italy, 3-4 May, 2009), RETEVITRUVIO.IT, the Italian Academic inter-university network of Architectural Design, invites scholars, architects and the interested public from all over the world to the first international congress "Architectural Design. Teaching and Research" on the issues and the problems of Architectural Design.

The congress will be held in Bari, May 2011, hosted by the Faculty of Architecture of Bari Polytechnic University.

Transcending the constraints of traditional cultural and disciplinary boundaries, the first RETEVITRUVIO Congress will be open to contributors associated with all disciplines focused on and around the architectural design. The Congress will offer an open forum for presenting the broad field of architectural design theories, methods, researches and products.

The organization committee would like to get proposals for papers on following topics:

1. Architectural Design
2. Research on Architecture
3. Teaching the Design Project
4. Architecture and construction
5. Landscape Architecture
6. Interior Design

Authors interested in submitting a paper must send a 400-600 word abstract, by 4th October 2010.

The abstract must be submitted through the online registration form:
<http://retevitruvio.it/congresso/it/modulo-invio.html>

For further information, like preliminary program, terms and conditions for registration and participation, please have a look to the official website of the congress:
